

Pills front plate collection, the new style icon from AVE

A Corian® series with an ultra-thin design. Pure contemporary elegance.
Available in touch, traditional and hotel versions.

Designed by the renowned arch. Simone Micheli, who has been AVE's partner for prestigious projects, the AVE Pills collection of front plates opens up new creative horizons to rethink the electrical system in an absolutely innovative way.

The design is ultra-thin, only 4 mm thick; designed to match Smart 44 supports while minimizing protrusion from the wall. Made of white Corian® with a matte finish that gives a sense of harmony and lightness. Beveled edges seek perfection and enhance unprecedented aesthetics. Pure and essential. Simply unique. The luminous gem that identify the controls are a design element in themselves, highly recognizable. Three versions are available:

- Pills Smart 44 Traditional with window without finishing frame. It can be completed with the elements of the Whitek 44 integrated wiring system and, in particular, with the new generation of axial controls that ensure a linear light point aesthetic. Available in versions from 2 to 7 modules.
- Pills Smart 44 Touch, where simply touching the Corian® surface is enough to operate the control. One touch is enough to introduce a new switch concept, elegantly hidden behind the front plate; in 3 and 4-way versions.
- Pills 44 Hotel is designed for access control card readers, with a design that can be customized with the hotel's logo and room number. It can be installed on standard supports and integrates a gem for calls and various lightable signals.

All versions are complete with modular variants to meet different installation needs. The common aesthetics allow them to be freely combined with each other, for example by inserting touch plates in the most visible places. Moreover, the wide range of elements of the Whitek 44 system allows to make the most of every function of the system, from controls and sockets to connections, both professional and domestic.

Born from the partnership with Simone Micheli, award-winning architect of international renown, the Pills collection is the natural continuation of a path that has seen AVE collaborate over the years with designers of the caliber of Gio Ponti, Makio Hasuike, Andries Van Onck and win important awards, including the Compasso D'Oro.

An original collection that enhances the electrical system by making it the protagonist.

Pills, the new style icon from AVE.

Rezzato, October 2, 2024